About Me

I'm Justine Mae Talla, a visual designer who blends strategic thinking with creative expression. Driven by curiosity and a love for experimentation, I enjoy challenging conventions and turning ideas into meaningful, functional, and inspiring designs.

I see design as an opportunity to take creative risks, explore new possibilities, and create something distinctive and effective.

My work spans graphic design, branding, art direction, UX/UI, and event design, where I bring together creativity and strategy to build thoughtful visual experiences that balance purpose, function, and originality.

Landing Page

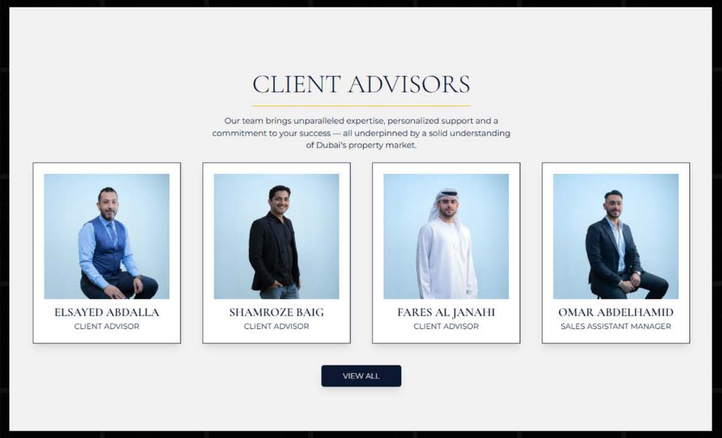

The Challenge
Daytona Properties lacked a dedicated digital platform to showcase its services and property offerings, making it harder for potential buyers to discover available properties and learn about the company.

The Solution
Designed a clean, user-friendly landing page that highlights Daytona's services and property offerings, making information more accessible while establishing a cohesive digital brand presence.

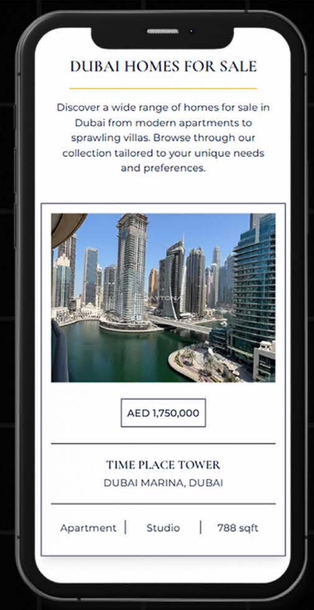

UX/UI

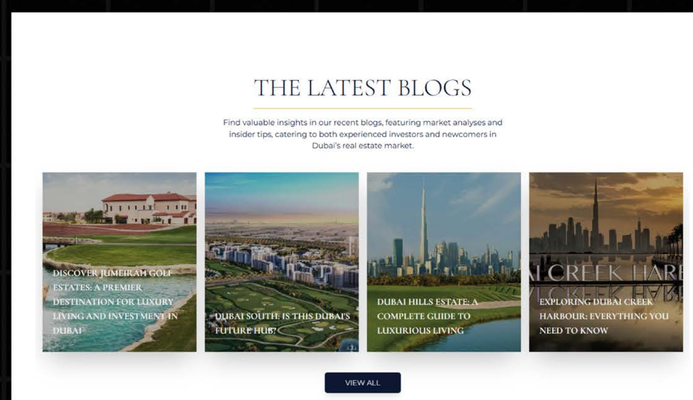

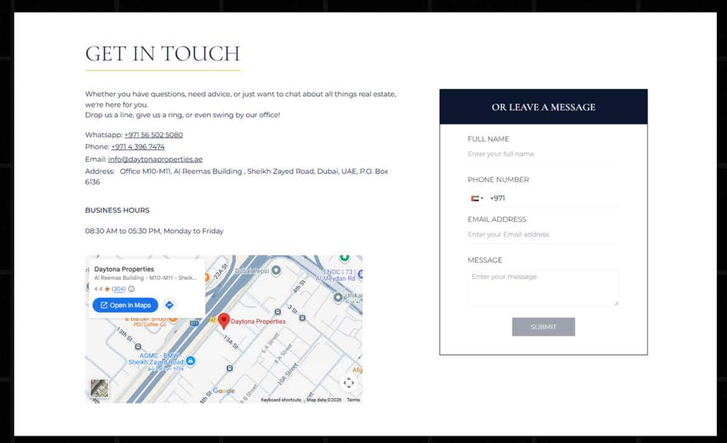

Daytona Properties Visual Revamp

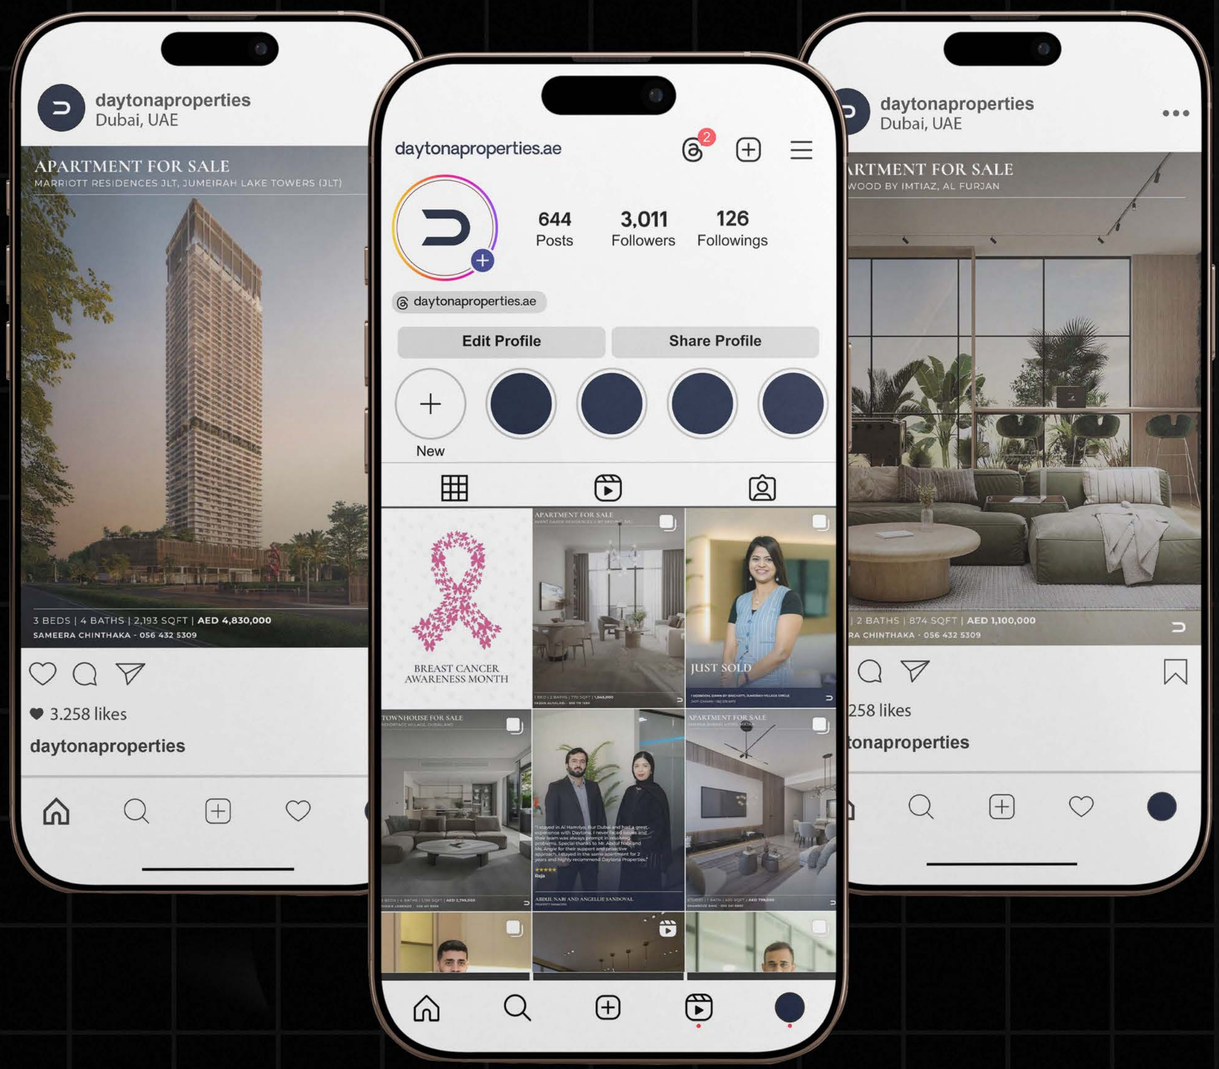

A visual revamp for Daytona Properties, we focused on creating a more cohesive and engaging brand presence across digital platforms. My work included graphic design, social media ad creatives for property promotions, and landing page design, bringing a consistent look and feel to the brand's marketing materials.

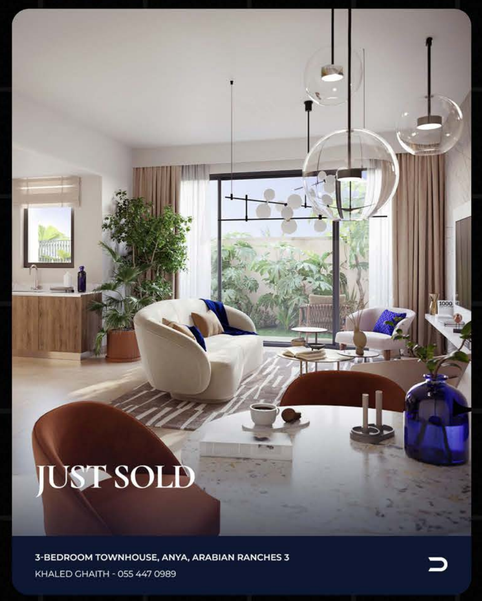

Graphic Design | Marketing | Landing Page

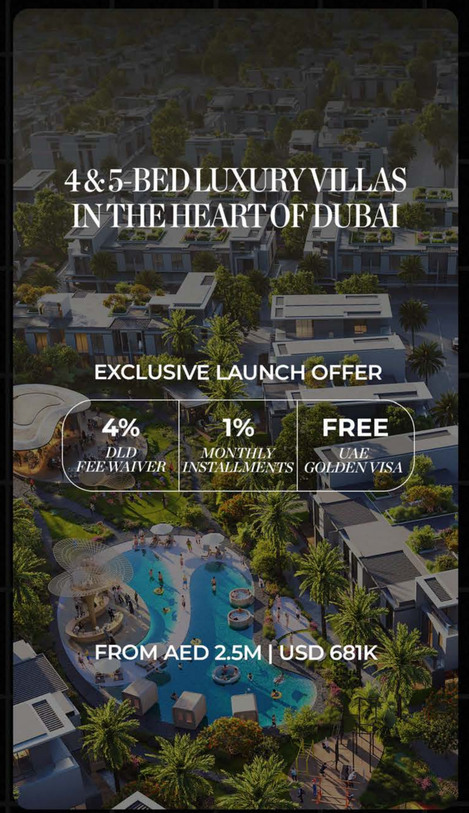

Social Media Ads

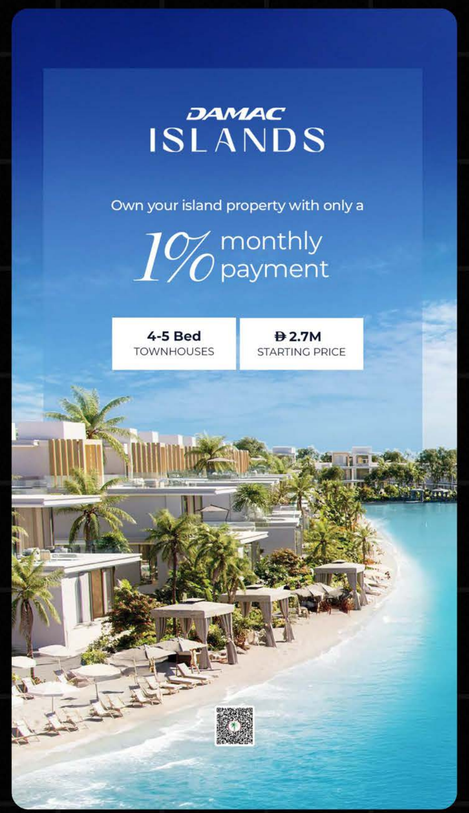

Designed social media ad creatives for Daytona Properties, translating property features, selling points, and promotional details into compelling layouts. Used strong visual hierarchy, targeted messaging, and property-focused imagery to showcase listings and attract potential buyers.

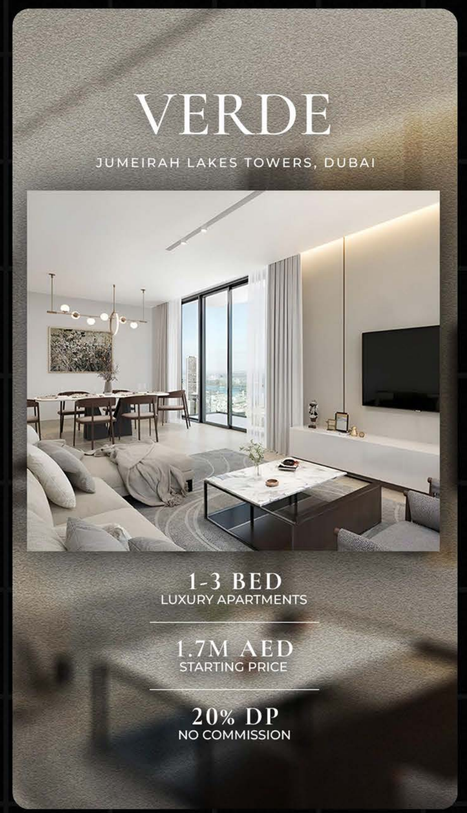

Graphic Design | Marketing Ads

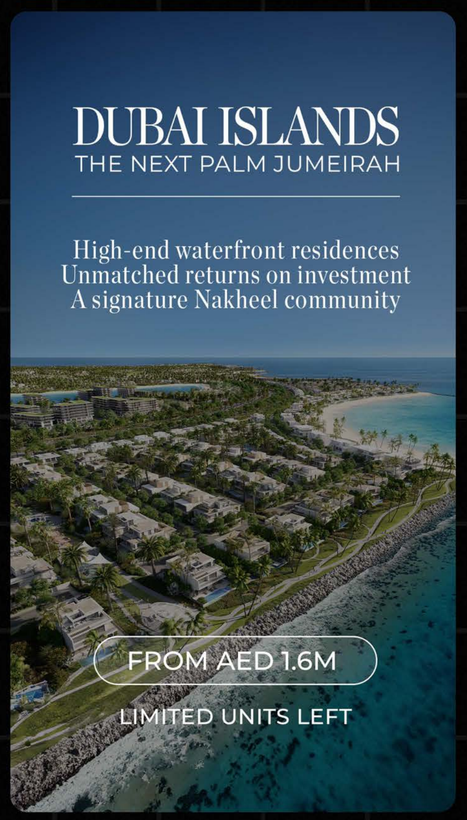

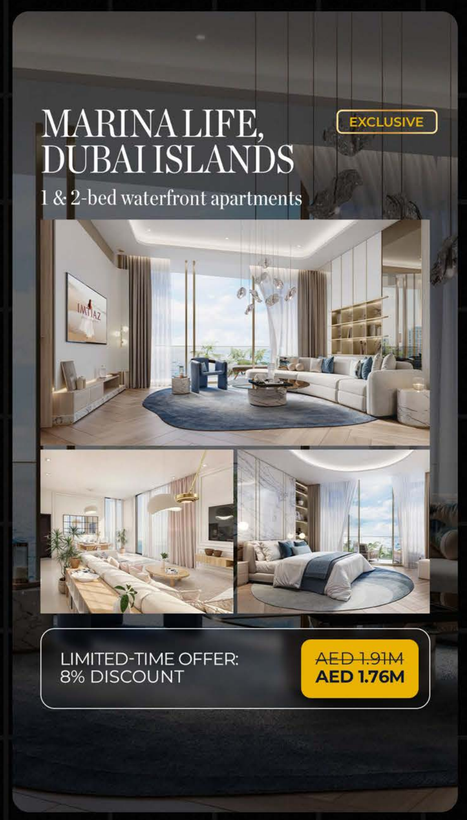

Brand Collaterals

Developed a range of brand collaterals that translated Daytona Properties' visual identity into cohesive marketing materials. Each piece was designed to maintain brand consistency, strengthen visual recognition, and support the brand's communication across multiple touchpoints.

UX/UI

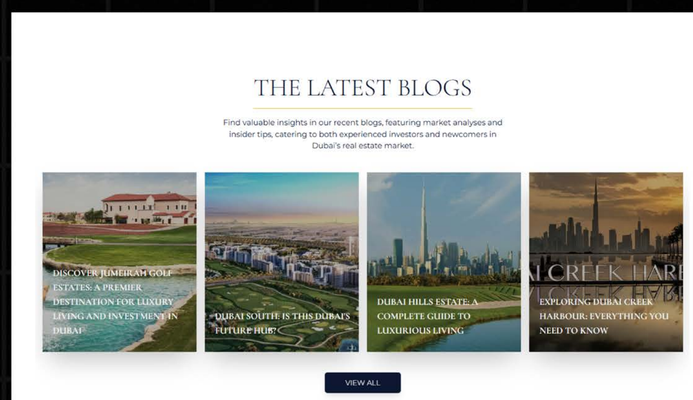

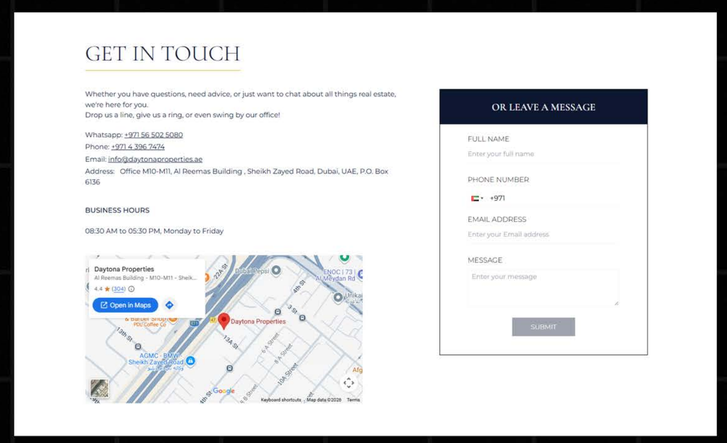

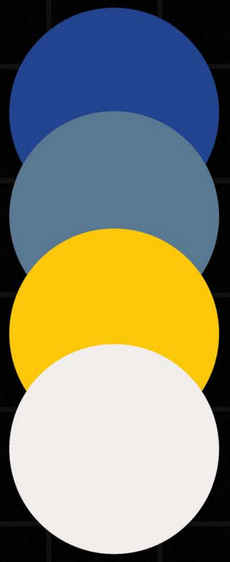

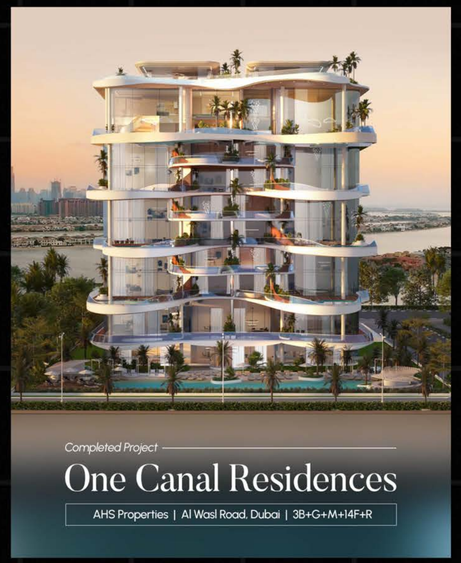

Naresco Contracting Social Media Refresh

Refreshed Naresco Contracting's social media visuals to create a more consistent and professional brand presence. Through project showcases, service highlights, and corporate content, I developed cohesive layouts that communicate the company's expertise while strengthening its visual identity across digital platforms.

Built to last.
Designed to inspire.

At Naresco Contracting, we transform ideas into reality with expert craftsmanship and contemporary design.

Landing Page

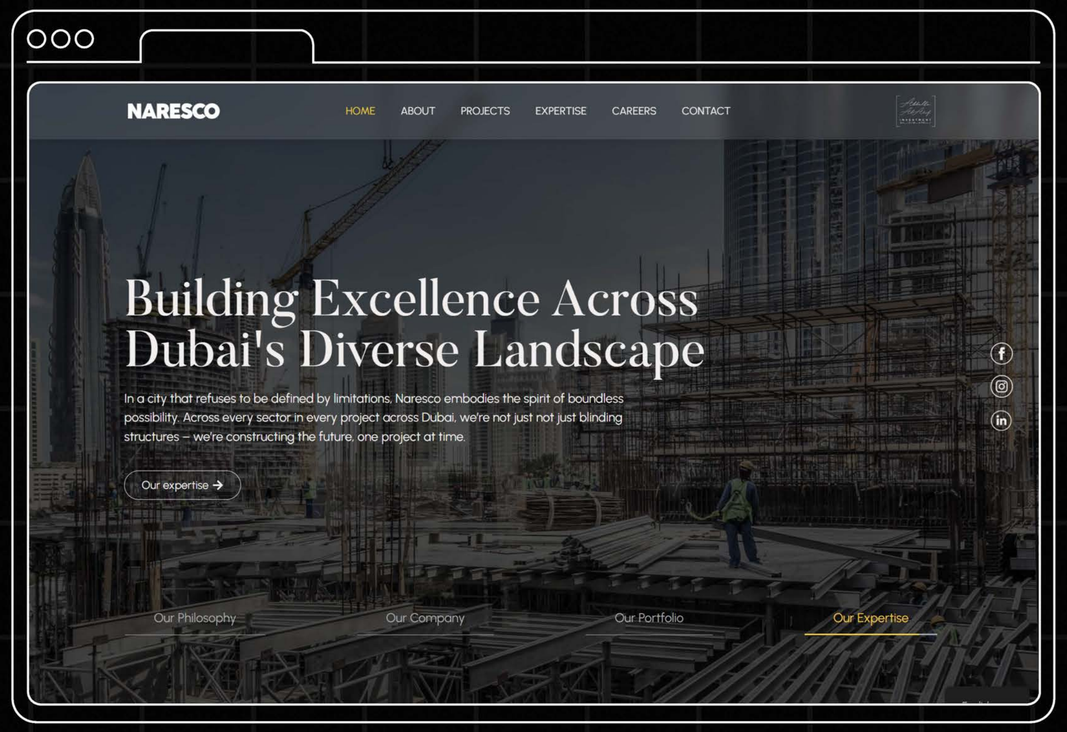

The Challenge

Naresco Contracting had limited opportunities to showcase its services, highlight completed projects, and communicate its expertise to potential clients. A stronger online presence was needed to establish credibility and make the company's capabilities more accessible.

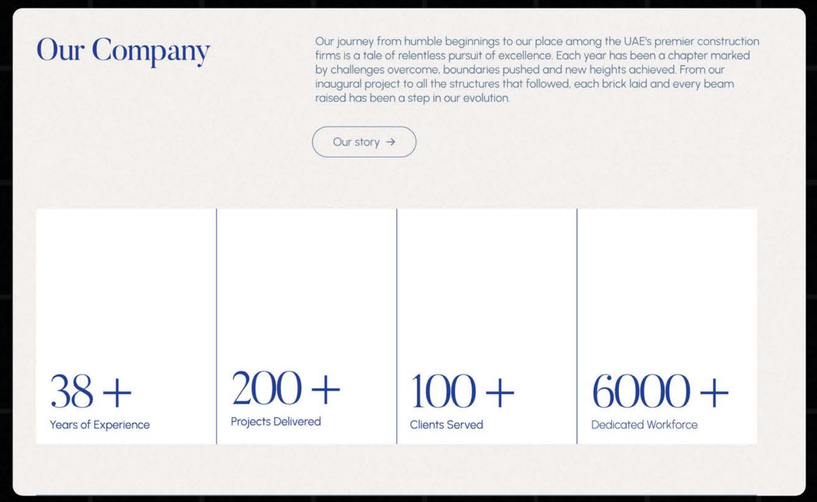

The Solution

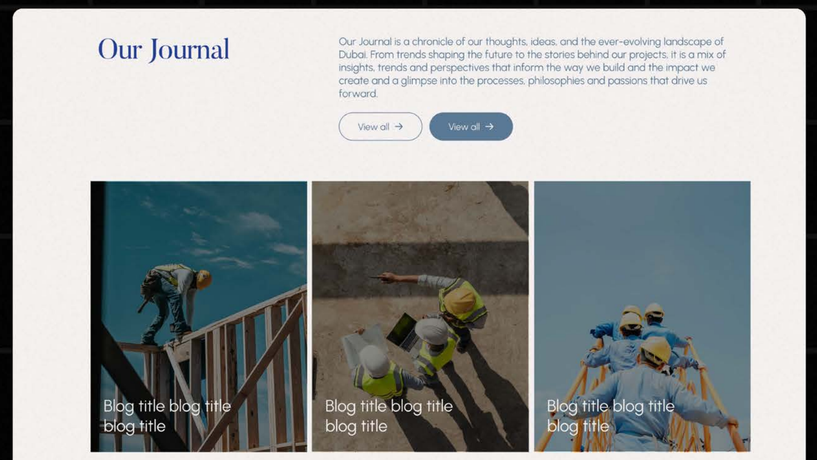

Designed a professional, user-friendly landing page that brings Naresco's services, projects, and capabilities together in one digital platform. The design strengthens the company's online presence, builds a more credible brand image, and makes it easier for potential clients to understand its expertise and explore its services.

ProGuard Services Brand Revamp

A visual brand revamp for Proguard, a Dubai-based cleaning company, built around an approachable, friendly, and professional creative direction. Moving away from the conventional look of cleaning service brands, the refresh introduced a more distinctive visual identity designed to make the brand feel welcoming, relatable, and memorable. We developed refreshed brand visuals and social media creatives that gave the company a more distinctive, welcoming, and consistent presence across digital platforms.

Did You Know AC Filters Should Be Cleaned Every Month?

Dirty filters can restrict airflow, increase your energy bills and reduce the quality of the air you breathe. Monthly cleaning helps your system run more efficiently, extends its lifespan and keeps your indoor environment clean.

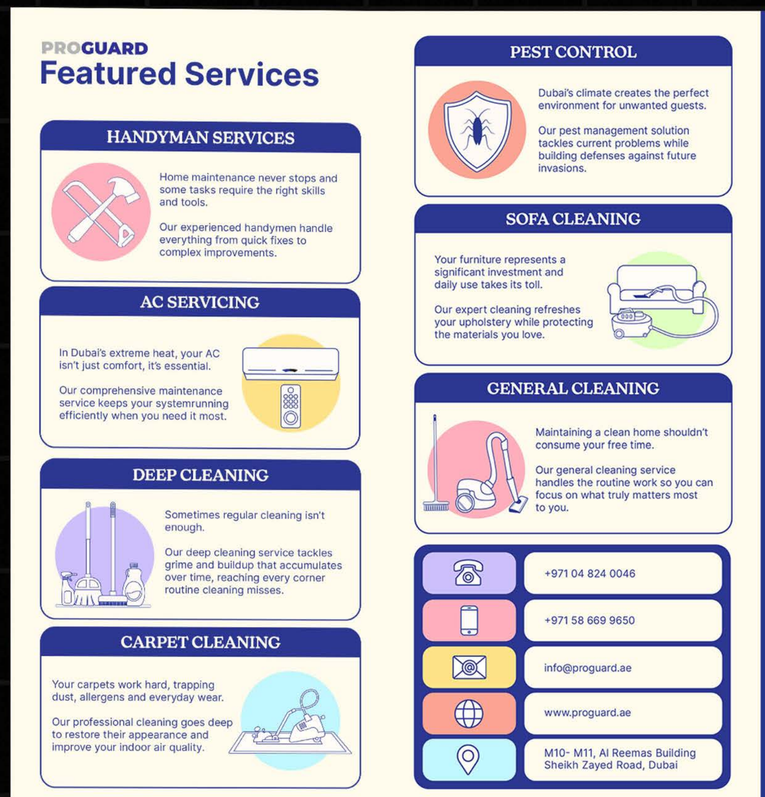

PROGUARD

Brand Collaterals

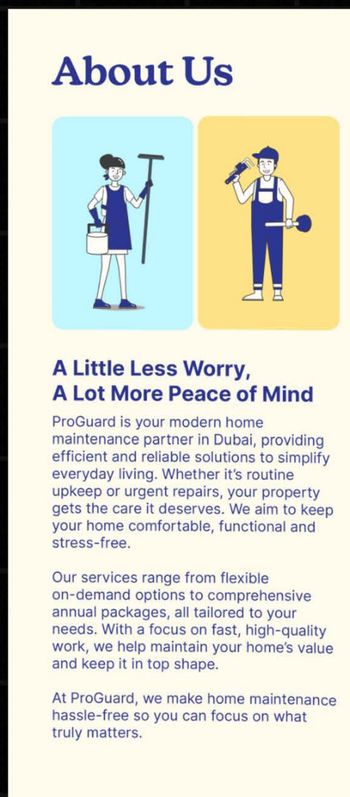

Created Proguard's brand collaterals, translating its friendly and approachable identity into practical marketing materials. Through consistent typography, playful graphic elements, and cohesive layouts, I ensured each piece reflected the brand's personality while communicating its cleaning services clearly and professionally.
